While working in the ancient Silk Road city of Aleppo, American Hannah Johnson and her Swedish lover Oskar are drawn into the mounting turbulence of the impending Syrian civil war. After Oskar is wounded at a street protest one evening, he and Hannah cross paths with Dr. Samir Hasan, a renowned surgeon. As the protests swell into all-out war, Dr. Hasan tends not only to Oskar, but also risks his life, his practice, and his family to tend to a nephew the government has branded an insurgent. Dr. Hasan's humanitarian activities come to the attention of a vengeful, Javert-like secret police officer whose son's death on Dr. Hasan's watch triggers a series of events that will drag Hannah and Oskar deeper into the war and put Hannah and Dr. Hasan in the officer's crosshairs. Both intimate and sweeping in scope, The Doctor of Aleppo lends insight into how the most brutal, devastating war of the twenty-first century is mirrored on the personal scale, leaving scars that can never be healed.

It's a simple agreement: for one month, Silas is my boyfriend of convenience. Once this is over, we'll go our separate ways. It's fake, after all. I need some arm candy to prove to my ex-fiancé that I've moved on. He needs his old-fashioned boss to think he's ready to settle down. Perfect, right? Except for one minor detail: we can't stand each other. Silas thinks I'm a stuck-up ice queen. I think he's a cocky, obnoxious jerk who's always trying to charm his way out of trouble - and succeeding. He's the beloved golden boy. I'm the awkward new girl in town. It would be the worst idea ever, except... everyone falls for it. That's the thing about pretending to date someone: it looks just like real dating. And the other thing about pretending to date someone? It feels like real dating. The heated kisses in my office: fake. The possessive way he touches me: fake. The night we spend together in a hotel bed: ...maybe not so fake. One month. Then this charade is over.

Missing 411- A Sobering Coincidence is the fifth book in the acclaimed series about people who have mysteriously disappeared. The books have been vetted by some of the top journalists in the world with statements such as; "David Paulides has shined a light onto one of the greatest and most disturbing mysteries of our time." Another comment; "The paper trail uncovered by Paulides through sheer doggedness is impressive, the evidence indisputable." Survivorman Les Stroud was interviewed about the series and stated, "Paulides presents pure facts. Facts that can't be disputed."The author continues with his profile points involving the disappearances and applies them to a series of incidents involving young men and women, mostly college age. Many of the victims vanished within the confines of their college or university town. These individuals were brilliant scholars, athletes and stellar people in their community. They disappear under unusual circumstances and are often found in areas that were previously searched. Medical examiners in these cases often cannot determine the cause of death. Many times the victim was recovered in water, yet autopsies show the body was not in the water the entire time the victim was missing. The majority of the families in these cases believe their loved ones were abducted and held, then later dumped in the water. These allegations are generally ignored by authorities until pressured by facts presented through secondary autopsies that families requested and paid for. This is a chilling and shocking series of stories that will cause many parents and young people to rethink their nighttime activities.
